

Character(s)

- What does your character look like?
- What does your character smell like?
- What does your character like to taste?
- What does your character NOT like to touch?
- What does your character NOT like to hear?

What happens?

What does your character do? What exciting, sad, frustrating, scary, or happy things happen in your story?

What is the mystery?

How does your character use each of her/his five senses when doing things? (Refer to your Sense Detective student sheet to give you ideas.)

For example, does your character...

- Hear any strange noises? How does s/he learn what the noise is?
- Smell something wonderful and follow her/his nose? What smelled so good?
- See something s/he wasn't quite sure of? How did s/he use her/his eyes to learn more about it?
- Taste the most disgusting thing in the world? What was it? How can s/he get that terrible taste off her/his tongue?
- Feel something unusual? What was it? How did her/his fingers help her/him learn what it was?

How does it end?

What happens at the end of the story? Does the mystery get solved? How?

How did your character use her/his five senses to solve the mystery?
